Fines

Don Knowles had a sad dollar because he had to leave early. Don Knowles had a happy dollar though for the excellent job Phil Miller-Evans is doing on the bulletin. Allen Yergovich, Anne Rogers, Elizabeth Wulff, Marci Moore, and Cicely Wulff had a happy dollar for Annabelle being at the meeting. Fred Walsingham had just a happy dollar because he's happy. Richard French had a happy dollar that he's done babysitting his four-year-old grandson. Phil Miller-Evans had a happy dollar for the nice compliment. David Morris paid a preemptive fine for the two cents he was bound to give during the speakers presentation. John Anders paid a dollar because he wants to know if a cell phone worked 6 feet under. Jean Levi was volunteered to test that theory. Jack Bowman had a happy dollar because it had been a good week until Thursday. Jim Humphries had a happy dollar for bingo. Rick Hitt paid a fine because he's been working on filling in for Vickie Waller. Henry Tenbrink paid a dollar because he would be back at bingo on Tuesday. Barbara had a happy dollar because she had lunch with quantum's last week. Pat Hardin had a happy dollar because she got to sit next to Annabelle. John Waller is happy to be with his wife and daughter. Bill Knowles was given a round of applause for his hard and awesome work on Casino Night. George Wilsey paid a dollar to tell us a joke.

George Wilsey's "True Story" Column

A sheriff, a lawyer and a preacher are out hunting together. A 12 point buck enters the glade. Jack, George and Phil all get a shot off. The buck drops dead. The sheriff insists that since he is the best trained in firearms that he had the kill shot. The lawyer made a convincing argument that he had made the kill shot. And the preacher had faith that his was the kill shot.

“True Story” cont.

Just then the game warden came by. He asked what all the fuss was over and the men explained that each believed that he had the kill shot. The warden went over to the buck and promptly pronounced that the preacher had the kill shot. The men asked the warden how he was so sure. “The shot went in one ear and out the other. It had to be the preacher.” (Have a “true story”? Share it with Phil)

Fines

March 31

Jan Merrick is still happy about her new car. Bob Scott is thankful he is healing—slowly. Don Knowles was fined for only being tolerated ONCE a year by his friend Franc. Richard French was happy that his car was fixed at no cost to him. Fred Walsingham was glad for the rain. Ann has a happy/sad dollar that her son, daughter-in-law and dog-in-law are staying for 3 weeks. Elizabeth Wulff paid a fine for having to leave early. Cicely Wulff has her car in Kenny's shop and also will not pay a penny. Dave Morris paid a fine for learning that if you are in an accident be sure the other driver has the same insurance company as you so you don't have to pay the deductible. Rick Hitt paid a thankful fine that no one took his open phone to send "prank" calls. Ed Lillich was fined for not collecting 50/50 money from Bill Knowles. Bill Knowles was fined for distracting Ed Lillich while he was counting the 50/50 money. Fines were interrupted when a secret admirer of Dave Morris burst into the meeting to hug and kiss him. George Wilsey was accused of not paying his fine. Phil paid a fine to absolve George of his "sin". Allen Yergovich was happy about his trip to Tallahassee. Pat Hardin is hoping for good jokes today. Marcie Moore paid a couple of bucks—happy she is back. Larry Sousa fined himself for promoting the Rays game so hard and now won't be able to go. Kenny Alderman and Jean Levi were fined for not being able to count correctly at Bingo. Jim Humphries was fined for being a good Bingo statistician showing the obvious error of Kenny and Jean's totals. Jack Bowman was ultimately fined for insisting the cash drawer had been emptied when in fact that was the counting discrepancy. Dee Alston paid a happy dollar for being at the meeting and looking forward to Ronald McDonald House in the morning. Dee also, rightly identified The Finemaster as one of the "black sheep" of the club that one must watch out for.

Cicely won the pool for guessing closest to the birthdate of Annabelle Waller. Go figure a maternity nurse won the pool! We all think this was insider trading.
